INTERMEDIATE PAINTING CLASS

with Sean "Teach" Strickland

NOVEMBER 11 – DECEMBER 23
WEDNESDAYS • 6–8 PM
(No class November 25)

6-WEEK COURSE	TUITION	CLASS SIZE	MATERIALS	LOCATION
2 HOURS PER SESSION	$250	4–10 STUDENTS	STUDENTS PROVIDE THEIR OWN MATERIALS	ON THE HILL GALLERY

Designed for students who have a firm grasp of the basics of their chosen mediums (acrylic, oil, watercolor, gouache, etc.), this class focuses on elevating your skills through the study of genre painting—still lifes, landscapes, and portraits.

Throughout the course, you will:

- Explore composition strategies and creative ideas
- Learn to generate and use source material
- Transfer images to your painting surface
- Strengthen your understanding of value, color, perspective, and lighting
- Finish and display your completed works

COURSE OUTLINE

WEEKS 1–2 • STILL LIFE
Arrange, photograph, and paint simple still lifes while exploring composition, value, and color.

WEEKS 3–4 • LANDSCAPES
Develop stronger landscapes through composition, perspective, depth, and lighting.

WEEKS 5–6 • PORTRAITS
Learn to select quality reference images, capture a likeness, and explore individual style.

WHO SHOULD TAKE THIS CLASS?

Students should be comfortable with the basic techniques of their chosen medium and have a working knowledge of color theory. This is not a beginner fundamentals class—it is designed to help artists build upon the skills they already have.

Classes will be held at
